

CfP Crime Writing SIG PALA Cagliari

After the successful Crime Writing SIG panel at PALA Canterbury, we look forward to organising a follow-up panel at PALA Cagliari.

We invite researchers with an interest in crime to submit an abstract for a crime-related paper. Please note that attendance of the prior SIG panel or a prior PALA conference is not necessary.

Topics may include, but are certainly not limited to:

- multimodality in crime reports and adaptations
- pragmatics in crime narratives and criminal justice system reports
- critical discourse analysis / critical stylistics of crime news
- point of view and mind style in crime fiction

Please submit a 300-word abstract, including five key words, to

Ilse Ras (University of Leeds, eniar@leeds.ac.uk) or

Ulrike Tabbert (University of Huddersfield, ulritab@googlemail.com)

by 15 January 2016.

SIG participants are encouraged to also submit a modified version of their abstract for our proposed special issue on crime writing (please see <https://crimesig.wordpress.com/2015/09/21/call-for-papers-special-issue/>).
